Our main products are fermented black carrot juice, apple vinegar, grape vinegar, balsamic vinegar and white vinegar, lemonade and pomegranate sauce, lemon sauce and soy sauce. All the raw materials that byAdana uses in its production are grown and collected especially from the South part of Turkey. As we've already exported to 14 countries so far, our main target is always to reach more areas all around the world and introduce our unique traditional Turkish tastes to more people keeping the best quality of our products.

FERMENTED BLACK CARROT JUICE

Fermented black carrot juice that contains black carrot as the most important raw material is a natural and very healthy beverage. Fermented black carrot juice, also known as turnip juice or shalgam is a combination of turnip, black carrot, bulgur and water. These materials are fermented without using a coloring agent, sugar and gluten. byAdana's shalgam has the materials' own natural colors and is full of Vitamin A, B and C and minerals. It is mostly preferred with traditional Turkish tastes like kebab. Being an antioxidant source, it removes toxins out of body, strengthens the immun system, helps protecting eye and skin. It is useful for stomach and liver and help losing excessive weight.
